GREETINGS FROM THE GENERAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Greetings to the Clubs of North Carolina:

I regret so very much not being with you in Raleigh that I am anxious to accept the invitation to send a word of greeting and good wishes for your new year.

The General Federation has no platform, no propaganda, but it is proving itself a wonderful power for the home—for every help we can devise toward bettering conditions for women and children.

We have policies, however, our Committees, and these I wish to emphasize.

More and more the States are realizing that our best work is accomplished by the committee chairmen and members and they offer wonderful enthusiasm and plans of work. Consultation with them is worth far more than any other force; they are willing, nay, even desirous of doing their utmost.

They will be glad to assist with suggestions for the fall, and for programs for next season. I commend them to you as mighty members of our great family.

Very sincerely yours,

Eva Perry Moore,

President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

PRESIDENT'S GREETINGS

After the long vacation, your President extends cordial greetings to each and every club member in our State Federation.

Fairly launched on the fall work, with the inspiration of our successful Federation meeting behind us, with the bond between the clubs stronger than ever before, we may come down to normal pressure again and may expect a high and strong tide of success and happiness during the coming year.

Let us all become impregnated with enthusiasm in our work and may every club fulfill its most cherished ambitions and its largest hopes.

Most cordially yours,

Laura Holmes Reilley.

REPORT OF THE ANNUAL MEETING

Miss Gertrude Weil, Recording Secretary pro tem

The Seventh Annual Convention of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs was held in Raleigh, May 4, 5, and 6, 1909. The first session was called to order on Tuesday at 3:30 o'clock in the Hall of the House of Representatives in the State Capitol, the President, Miss Margaret Lovell Gibson, occupying the Speaker's desk.

After an invocation by Mrs. R. O. Burton the reports of of the General Officers of the Federation were given. The Recording Secretary offered in her report the recommendation that a custodian be appointed to take charge of the Federation records. This was acted upon and Miss Daisy Denson, of Raleigh, was appointed. The Corresponding Secretary's report shows an enrollment of 43 clubs and 1350 members, an increase of 10 clubs and 350 members over last year's roll.

After the reading of greetings from friends of the Federation, the Committee on Rules and Regulations reported through the Chairman, Mrs. G. W. Whitsett. The report was left for adoption till presented later with changes.

An interesting and graphic report of the Biennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Boston was presented by Mrs. Eugene Reilley, which Mrs.

J. L. Washburn, former President of the Minnesota Federation, supplemented with some of her "Reminiscences of the Biennial". Following this was given an informal account of the recent Council Meeting in San Antonio by Miss Laura Drake Gill, General Federation Chairman on Education.

The meeting of the Executive Board, held in the morning, was reported and the minutes accepted. According to the recommendations of the Board it was voted that the Biennial delegates be elected by the Executive Board and that a nominating committee of five be appointed from the floor. The Nominating Committee as appointed consisted of Mrs. R. R. Cotten, Mrs. J. T. Alderman, Mrs. E. C. Duncan, and Mrs. W. R. Hollowell. After the announcement of the Credential Committee the first session adjourned to meet at the Governor's Mansion, where the formal opening was to be held at 8:00 p. m.

This evening session was partly of a business, partly of a social nature. Mr. Field, of the Mansion, introduced his Excellency Governor Kitchen, whose words of cordial greeting were followed by Mrs. R. B. John's address of welcome. In response to these Mrs. R. R. Cotten expressed the Federation's appreciation of all the hospitality extended. The President then gave her address, reviewing the year's work of the Federation, showing a thorough study of conditions in the State and an encouraging belief in a hopeful future. After the formal program a reception was tendered by the Raleigh Woman's Club.

The third meeting of the Convention was called to order by the President on May 5th, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., in the Hall of the House of Representatives in the State Capitol. After the invocation by Mrs. T. N. Ivey, the minutes of the previous meetings were read and accepted. Mrs. E. C. Duncan then presented the report of the Credential Committee.

The report of the Committee on Rules and Regulations, as finally presented, was adopted, with a vote of thanks to the Committee. The Rules and Regulations are as follows:

- 1. The blessing of God shall be invoked on the deliberations of this body.
- 2. No member shall be permitted to speak more than once to the same motion, without unanimous consent of the house, unless she be the mover of that motion; in this case she may both open and close the debate.
- 3. In all business meetings speeches shall be limited to three minutes each.
- 4. In all meetings other than business meetings, the time of the speaker is not to be extended by request from the floor.
- 5. No delegate shall represent more than one club or organization.
- 6. All resolutions shall be referred to and reported upon by the Committee on Resolutions before they shall be considered by the house.
- 7. All important motions must be in writing and signed and sent to the Recording Secretary.
- 8. The privilege of the floor must not be extended to subjects not pertaining to the work of the Federation except by unanimous consent of the house. When the house is not in session the Executive Board shall act on such applications.
- 9. Doors shall be closed during presentation of each report, reading of papers, etc.
  - 10. No proxies shall be allowed.

The report of the meeting of the Board of Directors was read by Mrs. D. M. Ausley. In reference to the recommendations herein contained, it was voted that the Federation Loan Fund should not be merged into the McIver Memorial Loan Fund, that a Health Committee should be created to work under the Civic Department, and that the Forestry Department should include work in Waterways.

The Library Extension Department was reported by Mrs. Sol Weil. Its chief message was the creation of a State Library Commission. In relation to this a letter was read from the North Carolina Library Association expressing appreciation to the Federation for work in the cause of the Library Commission. Then Mr. Lewis R. Wilson, of the University Library and member of the State Library Commission, spoke on the subject of the newly established commission, its formation, scope, and plans. Mrs. Weil's recommendation that all its traveling libraries be handed over to the Library Commission for management was adopted by the Federation.

The well known Dr. C. W. Stiles, who was next introduced, gave an enlightening talk on the condition of the South from a medical point of view, dwelling particularly on the hookworm disease, its cause, symptoms, prevention, cure, and bearing upon economic and moral conditions. After a rising vote of thanks to Dr. Stiles the Convention adjourned to meet at 2:30 o'clock. During the recess, luncheon given by the Raleigh Merchants' Association was served at the Raleigh Woman's Club.

At the afternoon session the reports of the departments were resumed: Mrs. F. L. Stevens presented the Education work, speaking of the aims and work of the department and emphasizing the recently passed educational bill. The amount contributed to the English Scholarship was reported $57.25, that to the Normal Loan Fund, $80.25. The Mrs. Stonewall Jackson Scholarship Fund amounted to $916.86.

Mrs. R. R. Cotten, Chairman of the North Carolina Joint Committee on Education of the National Education Association, introduced Miss Gill, who explained the object and formation of these joint committees. Mrs. Cotten then reported the special work of the North Carolina Committee.

Mrs. W. R. Hollowell, State President of the Woman's Association for the Betterment of Public Schoolhouses, made an appeal to the Federation for co-operation in improving the sanitary condition of the rural schools.

Reports were presented from the various departments as follows: Civic, Art, Music, Publication, Industrial and Child Labor, Reciprocity, Child Study, Household Economics, and Literature.

Morth Carolina State Library Raleigh

In connection with the Household Economics work Mrs. W. N. Hutt spoke of the woman's branch of the Farmers' Institute.

Acting on a recommendation of Miss Fries, Chairman of the Literature Department, the Federation voted to accept the invitation of Dr. Mims, and, through its Literature and Education Chairman, to co-operate with the State Literary and Historical Society in a joint committee which shall arrange study programs for popular use.

The evening of Wednesday, May 5th, was devoted to a musical selection and an inspiring address by Miss Laura Drake Gill on the subject, "A Woman's Equipment".

The morning session of Thursday, May 6th, was held in the Hall of the House of Representatives in the State Capitol. The President called the meeting to order at 10:00 o'clock. An invocation was made by Mrs. B. F. Dixon, after which Mrs. W. J. Cocke concluded the reports of the departments with that on Forestry. Then followed the reports of the special committees, Legislative, Library Commission, and Scholarship.

The President announced that our State Chairman on Education, Mrs. F. L. Stevens, who had been honored with membership on the General Federation Committee on Education, has been assigned control of all the rural school work for the United States.

Reports of the individual clubs occupied most of the day. These showed marked progress in the work of the clubs which was inspiring and gratifying.

During the course of the morning the courtesy of the floor was extended to Mr. Richard Battle, of Raleigh, who expressed greetings to the Federation, and to Miss I. J. Austin, of New York, who made a plea for work in behalf of crippled children.

Preparatory to the election of officers, the roll was called, showing that those present and entitled to vote numbered 68. The ballot resulted in the election of the ticket presented by the Nominating Committee.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered the retiring President for her just and impartial rulings, after which the Federation adjourned for luncheon.

At the afternoon session the three minute reports of the clubs were concluded. Upon the report of the Resolution Committee, presented by Miss Mary Petty, the Federation passed resolutions to the effect (1) that public institutions for defectives be included in the scheme for the distribution of libraries, (2) that Federation members be urged to join the State Literary and Historical Society, (3) that literary clubs be encouraged to take up the study of North Carolina History, (4) that the Federation express appreciation to Dr. Gordon for his services in securing the passage of the Library Commission Bill, (5) that the North Carolina Federation would deplore any addition or change in the architectural plan of the State Capitol.

The request was made that delegates send a list of the cripples in their community with a brief history of their diseases to Miss Daisy Denson, of Raleigh. Mrs. Reilley, Chairman of the Committee on Courtesies, presented an eloquent expression of appreciation of the many and hospitable courtesies extended by the Woman's Club and the people of Raleigh to the Federation, which was heartily endorsed by the Federation.

An invitation was extended the Federation to visit the State Agricultural Department, also an invitation was repeated to a reception at the Capitol Club of Raleigh. A cordial invitation was then extended by Mrs. F. R. Harris, in the name of the Henderson clubs, to hold the Eighth Annual Convention in that city. Announcement was made of the election of chairmen of departments by the Executive Committee, after which the meeting adjourned.

The last evening of the Convention was devoted to a delightful musicale in the Olivia Raney Library Hall.

REPORTS FROM DEPARTMENTS

LIBRARY EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Sol Weil, Chairman, Goldsboro

The past year has been a joyful one in our special field of endeavor. The seed planted six years ago, our traveling library, we have watched grow and bear rich fruitage under the fostering care of our clubs.

In the work of the special library committee which was authorized last year, North Carolina club women have reason to be exultant not alone over their success but because their introduction to legislation was in the interest of such a magnificent measure as the Library Commission bill. committee owes much to the co-operation of the North Carolina Library Association and to Mr. Louis R. Wilson, Librarian of the State University, who drew up the bill and lent his efforts to secure library legislation. We are under deep obligations to Dr. James Gordon, Representative from Guilford County and Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, to whom we attribute the success of our measure: The Library Commission bill is now a law on the statute books of North Carolina, carrying with it an appropriation of fifteen hundred dollars. This marks the genesis of our effort in legislative problems and demonstrates the formative process of library extension and the force and focus of united effort.

Sometimes when we feel particularly boastful over the great strides we have made, it is good for us to contemplate the development work still ahead of us, looking towards the time when the public library shall be as common to all communities as is the public school. It is good to look forward to the work still to be done here in North Carolina where there are vast uncultivated fields awaiting the influence of library activity. For many years there were practical difficulties in the way of library development, small towns tried to have libraries but gave up either through lack of funds or lack of interest. Now we believe the traveling library has in a measure solved the difficulty.

The traveling library has done more in furnishing books to isolated communities and in developing local libraries than its most ardent friends could have hoped. Here in our State the traveling libraries are intended to lead to the establishment of local libraries and the work has been carried on with that in view. There are in North Carolina one hundred and fifty towns having a population of one thousand inhabitants. Most of these towns have no library facilities, because they will not support a local library and vote down every attempt to levy a library tax. But a traveling library is there, probably, under the care of some woman's club. The community starts a subscription library, the leaven begins to work, and a free library is only a matter of time.

The best results in the way of developing interest are accomplished when libraries are a part of a state system. To do the best work they should have trained supervision by a field secretary who will follow up and assist the first show of interest. Then, too, communities feel more free to borrow that which is supplied by the state and supported by public taxation. Twenty-seven states now send out traveling libraries, most of them controlled by a State Library Some of the State Federations which have Commission. operated a successful traveling library system have presented to the state the cases and books to be used as a part of the state equipment. Just how we shall co-operate will be more fully brought out in the Library Commission Conference which we trust will reveal the plans and scope in its true proportions looking to a constructive policy. Let us put forth our best efforts to combine club and commission so they may work along broader lines with perfect harmony.

The Library Extension Department goes on record as having at present 92 traveling libraries, comprising an aggregate of 2000 volumes, a gain of 29 cases over last year and a gain of 600 volumes not included in traveling library cases. This work, done by relatively few clubs, is gratifying in its results and proves what can be accomplished by even a few working with a uniform purpose.

The committee recommends (1) that the traveling library work in the State should be under one management intelligently and rigorously conducted by the State Board, (2) that we put forth our best effort to make the traveling library a success, (3) that when a change is made on the Commission we be ready to work as a unit to see that our clubs have a representative on the Board, and (4) that the Federation and the Commission work together in selecting the best textbooks, in giving information and instruction as to their use, publishing lists of books in local papers, getting the local book-sellers to keep the best books and the best editions. Your committee has had printed some authoritative lists of books for children, also the maxon book mark that should go in every book. Your clubs can aid this work by studying these lists and sending a model children's library out to some forgotten corner, there to shape ideals and determine character that shall make for good citizenship.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Mrs. F. L. Stevens, Chairman, Raleigh

The Department of Education has directed its main effort toward raising two scholarship funds for girls. A national scholarship known as the "English Scholarship", it is hoped will offer such educational advantages to our young women as the Cecil Rhodes scholarships are doing for our young men. To this end the federated clubs have contributed one hundred dollars. Eighty dollars and twenty-five cents have been contributed toward the establishment of a second fund to be known as the "Federation Normal Loan Fund".

Ten free scholarships have been placed at the disposal of the department from the following institutions for the following year: State Agricultural and Mechanical College, five; State University, two; Trinity College, two; Wake Forest College, one. During the past year five young men have enjoyed the benefits of these Federation scholarships. The co-operation of every club in the State is earnestly desired in making the best possible use of these scholarship gifts.

A number of Parent and Teacher Meetings have been held in various school localities under the direction of the chairman of the department. On February 12th the chairman addressed the Southern Pines Club and neighboring clubs upon matters relating to the work of the department.

While only three clubs have organized departments doing work distinctively for education, yet many clubs are doing good work along educational lines, and it is hoped that this work may be classified and reported fully in succeeding reviews of club work.

CIVIC DEPARTMENT

Miss Elizabeth Schwarberg, Chairman, Southern Pines

One of the best ways to cultivate a love for the beautiful is to begin with our surroundings. Civic beauty means cleanliness, comfort, pride. The vacant lot overgrown with weeds and brush is a reproach to any neighborhood. Civic beauty is not an idle dream, it is an easily realized ideal.

The reports that have come to this department are most encouraging. Though not all the towns represented in the Federation have a civic department in their clubs, yet those that have report better work done this year, and the committee has helped to arouse new interest.

One of our newest civic clubs during the two years since its organization has raised over $2200, most of which has been spent in restoring and beautifying the town hall, now the library and club room. A civic league in one town organized with a cleaning day and a law imposing a fine for expectorating on the side-walks. Another civic league is determined to have clean and beautiful streets and lawns, while still another exercises close observance of health laws. Five hundred trees planted, Arbor Day and Civic Day celebrations, improved conditions around the railroad station, and a systematic garbage collection, is the record of one small town. A larger neighbor, through the influence of its woman's club, had a clean-up day and is working to raise $5000 per year that the public library may be kept open at night, on holidays, and on Sunday afternoons. An annual cleaning-up day, the removal of fences, and a petition for a union railroad station, show the work another club is doing for its town. Several other clubs report Arbor Day and cleaning day observance, while still others are working in a quiet way toward general civic improvement. Everywhere may be seen the good results of the co-operation of the woman's club with the local civic league.

To those clubs which have not attempted anything along civic lines the committee wishes to make a plea that they inaugurate a movement towards better conditions in their towns. Do it at once. Will not clubs which have not already established junior civic leagues for the training of our school children in principles of law, order, and cleanliness, do so at once? There is no town but can enlist the help of the children in the effort to have clean streets if they are taught this and have cultivated in them a taste for beauty and cleanliness.

ART DEPARTMENT

Mrs. E. R. Michaux, Chairman, Greensboro

The true club spirit—self improvement and loving service for the general good—has a firm hold in our State, but for several reasons art has not been stressed or has not kept pace with the other club work. Your chairman takes pleasure in reporting a marked increase of interest, however, in this department in the majority of the clubs. While the progress has not been so great as we had hoped, yet we feel that a beginning has been made and the pathway paved for future work.

The clubs report variously the study of the Renaissance, the Cathedrals, Indian pottery, and the art of America, France, Spain, and Japan, with lectures on civic beauty, aesthetic education, and the English galleries. Several clubs have availed themselves of the traveling art galleries, while others have had exhibitions of Mexican and Indian arts and handicrafts and of pictures painted by North Carolina artists. One club has studied the art poems of Browning; another has contributed a generous sum for pictures for the public schools.

The coming year should mark a long step forward in this department of our club work. The study of art is a necessary and a delightful part of our education. The subject is a broad one, with its practical as well as its aesthetical side. A world of great commercial importance opens to us in the many branches of the industrial arts. The making of artistic hand-made articles should be encouraged in our own people. Many states are working for a State Art Commission, whose object is to develop latent talent, to stimulate interest in the fine arts, and to foster the introduction of art in the manufactures. North Carolina needs a State Art Commission and now is the time to prepare the minds of the people for the passage of such a bill. The clubs should study the question so as to be able to discuss it. It would mean much for the awakening of an appreciation of the beautiful and would stimulate the creative ability of our people.

Many towns have a Municipal Art Commission whose approval is necessary before any public building, statue, etc., can be erected. Opportunity offers itself in every town and village in the State to emphasize civic art.

The club women of the State are urged to see that drawing is introduced into as many schools as possible, and that good pictures and an art reader are placed in the public schools so that the names of the great artists may become household words.

Though the traveling gallery of the General Federation has been discontinued, other galleries together with an arts and crafts exhibit may be obtained from Mrs. Everett W. Pattison, 4254 Olive Street, St. Louis. Mrs. Pattison's "Outlines for Art Study" will be found very helpful as will also her "Handbook of Art in Our Own Country", which may be had for twenty-five cents.

We are awake to the advantages of the Art Department. We have begun to realize our responsibilities, our possibilities. We shall extend our usefulness with the help of the club women of our State.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Mrs. E. C. Duncan, Chairman, Raleigh

The reports received from twenty-four clubs give evidence of increased interest along musical lines. The study of the music of America, Germany, and France, Scotch ballads, Spanish songs, and Indian music, with many lectures and recitals, has made a pleasant and profitable year for these clubs. Several other clubs not specially devoted to the study of music have celebrated with music the memorials of Chopin, Mendelssohn, Tennyson, Poe, and Holmes, and have had musical programs for Reciprocity Day and Christmas-tide.

Two of the clubs having a department of music have been brought in closer touch with the musical interests of the State by standing sponsor respectively for the Raleigh May Music Festival and the Radcliff Festival in Wilmington.

Several clubs have purchased pianos, one of which has been presented to the school board. One music club has joined the National Federation of Musical Clubs, uses its course of study, and contributes to its prize fund for the winners in American composition. There are two newly organized music clubs, besides one lately reorganized, and one recently admitted to the Federation.

Music should have a place in departmental clubs along with literature, art, child study, etc. The National Musical Association sends out programs, which, arranged to fit the needs of the individual club, would be of great help.

It is earnestly recommended that there be a committee on music in every club to devise ways and means by which this art may be encouraged. The chairman will be glad to answer questions and give every possible help to clubs desiring aid. Club members should come to realize that music is necessary to general culture and that we cannot afford to lose this influence for good. Where there is no music taught in the public schools the clubs should strive to introduce it and thereby encourage the love of music in our children. In the traveling libraries some music, musical reference books, biographies and stories of great musicians might be included.

It is a matter of great concern to us that we have no official recognition in the General Federation, but we believe we may yet receive a place among the committees that have charge of the work of that great organization. A subject that so closely touches our home life, child life, and club life ought to have a place in the work of every club, of every state, and of the General Federation.

PUBLICATION DEPARTMENT

Miss Gertrude Weil, Chairman, Goldsboro

During the club year of 1908-1909 the Chairman on Publication has with the assistance of local club reporters edited the North Carolina Federation column of The Keystone. Nine issues of this, our official organ, have been published, containing messages from the Federation President and other officers, reports of department chairmen, and reports of individual clubs.

Notes for publication should be sent to the Chairman on Publication. Subscriptions to The Keystone may be sent either to the chairman or to Miss Poppenheim, Charleston, S. C.

INDUSTRIAL AND CHILD LABOR DEPARTMENT

Mrs. D. Y. Cooper, Chairman, Henderson

The department is working for the Stonewall Jackson Training School at Concord, N. C. We have united with The King's Daughters and Sons in paying for the first cottage to be built on the grounds. The cottage is to cost $5000 and will have a memorial tablet commemorating the noble efforts of the women of the State to aid and encourage unfortunate boys.

At the last meeting of the Federation it was recommended that each delegate urge her club to make a liberal offering during the year. All organizations are interested in having some memorial on the school grounds, and the Federation of Women's Clubs must be represented.

RECIPROCITY DEPARTMENT

Mrs. C. L. Stevens, Chairman, New Bern

Through the columns of The Keystone your chairman, at the beginning of the club year, urged all clubs to observe reciprocity and offered her services to further the cause of reciprocity among federated clubs. During the year papers were sent to three clubs requesting them, and several letters were written giving suggestions as to the method of work.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Willard G. Rogers, Chairman, Charlotte

The committee's first endeavor was to send a suggested program to all clubs not having a household economics department, urging them to give at least one day to this subject. Our next work was to enlist the interest of the legislators of our State in the adoption of the model Pure Food bill, by sending typewritten letters and copies of the bill to each member. We regret to say it was not adopted.

Committees have been appointed to investigate the matter of placing domestic science in the curriculum of the Charlotte schools. Several talks have been made, one at Baldwin Industrial School. The Charlotte Woman's Club will furnish needed kitchen ware and re-decorate the dining room of this school.

We believe that if each club could give some systematic study to the science of household economics the entire State would soon become interested and all would co-operate to make North Carolina homes the best in America.

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT

Miss Adelaide L. Fries, Chairman, Winston-Salem

By reason of the small number of replies to circulars sent out to the clubs by the committee, it is impossible to give any comprehensive report of the work being done in this department.

One matter has come up which is of interest to this department and indeed to the entire Federation. Last fall at its annual meeting, the State Library and Historical Association established a Literary Commission. address which led to the creation of this commission. Dr. Edward Mims, of Trinity College, made most courteous reference to the work of the study clubs throughout the State, and as Dr. Mims was appointed chairman of the Literary Commission, the feeling of appreciation has led to a desire for co-operation between the two state organizations. So far as perfected the plan is simply this: That a joint committee be formed, the ex-officio members to be the chairman of the Literature Department and the chairman of the Education Department. The object of this joint committee is two-fold. First, the publication of one or two typical outlines for the use of study clubs, outlines which in this way would show the knowledge and skill of the college professor trained in guiding students in their work, while Federation chairmen would shape them to meet the actual needs of their clubs. In the second place the joint committee would serve as the intermediary through which university extension lectures might be arranged by any club desiring them. The General Federation offers a number of study outlines, but those prepared by the joint committee would have the advantage of being suited to our local conditions and our local needs, and as Dr. Mims, on behalf of the State Literary and Historical Association, generously offers to bear the expense of printing the outlines, the financial question does not need to be considered. Of course only such clubs as wish to do so would use the outlines, but the privilege of using them would be open to all our Federated Clubs and to such independent study clubs as might apply through the Literary and Historical Association. Our Federation should appreciate the recognition so generously extended by the other state organizations working along partly similar lines and should accept the suggestion as freely as it is offered. As retiring chairman of the Literature Department I therefore recommend that the Federation formally accept the proposal of the State Literary and Historical Association, and that it authorize the chairman of the Literature and Education Departments to serve on this joint committee and in conjunction with the chairman of the Literary Commission to appoint any additional members that may be needed.

FORESTRY DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Wm. J. Cocke, Chairman, Asheville

It is with a degree of satisfaction and a feeling of keen pleasure that we submit to you the first report upon forestry yet presented to this Federation. Our work as at first mapped out has successfully materialized, our initial movements being to secure for North Carolina Mr. Enos Mills, government lecturer upon forestry, and to compile lists of club women and of teachers in club towns in order that literature upon forestry might be sent them from the department at Washington.

In undertaking to present the lecture we divided our clubs into five districts with gratifying results. Half the club towns were eager to take advantage of this exceptional offer from the government. Reports from the four towns in which Mr. Mills lectured express much enthusiasm and he is given a hearty encore. We feel gratified at the club's share of his time and his promise of future dates. In all our correspondence with the department in Washington, we found the chief of the bureau interested, eager to aid, and highly appreciative of our work. Our desire to reach the mother and the teacher was that the receptive mind of the child might become imbued with ideas of forestry, of forest preservation and conservation. The fireside talk by the mother, the pleasurable excursion with the teacher, can be fraught with such germs of thought upon this question as will lead to firm resolve and practical effort in the man. We cannot disregard the moral obligations upon us to nurture this royal heritage—one entailed for posterity as well as for our own present needs. Other states, other countries are planting forests—ours were planted for us. What a little part ours to protect them. We may use them as intended, but properly.

Your chairman deemed it a privilege to write, upon request, an article for the Arbor Day Manual used in the public schools of the State. Copies of a forestry program were received from the General Federation Forestry Committee. Our State Forester, Mr. W. W. Ashe, revised the program suitable to the needs of our State and a copy was sent to each state officer, and to the president and secretary of each federated club. We called attention especially to the observance of Arbor Day. Answers were received from but ten towns, five of these already having observed this day in an appropriate manner. Did club women realize that in promptness as well as in union there is strength, our Federation would be a more efficient stronghold in all that is uplifting.

The clubs should realize the practical value in this work and have knowledge of the real use of the National Forest. It is not a thing set apart with sign attached "hands off", but a reservation for the individual with laws governing, so that the small man and not the corporation will be benefited. This aside from its value and its physical effect upon our resources. Study this side and you will be so imbued with its tangible, forceful argument, that you will proclaim to the world our moral obligations.
